

Introduction

Hello, we are Hull's Young Voices Influencing Care (YVIC).

We'd like to share with you our latest project.

As children and young people in care, we have to deal with a lot of different things. We experience things many other young people don't. Life can be really tough for us sometimes with the extra things we have going on.

As a group, we work hard to share parts of our lives in a way that you learn from us in a new way.

Today, we ask you to play a game of 'The Cards You're Dealt'. We want you to see, hear and discuss things that are a part of our lives.

We are in care and it's no game at all. This game is for you adults to play and we won't be joining in.

We ask you to consider your role in our lives and go away with more questions than answers about our lives, and how the services provided to us impact on our lives.

After the session, spend some time reflecting on what you've discussed and challenge yourself to identify one or two areas of your practice where you can try to improve, to better serve the young people with whom you work.

Thank you.
